Level 4

Napkal was a scientist. He was obsessed with aeroplanes. He liked travelling by boat because he could see aeroplanes clearly above the water. Once, he left on a boat trip with his friends and eventually reached Jamaica. During the journey food stores had gone empty and they were all very hungry.

People of Jamaica were afraid at seeing them because they had never seen any foreigners before. Napkal wanted to ask them for food but they were not coming close. Napkal got worried. What should he do? This was a really big problem.

Suddenly he had an idea. At that time the moon was in its waning phase and that night was new moon. Napkal called out, "If you don't give us food I'll take away your moon". Night fell, dark and moonless. People of Jamaica thought that perhaps Napkal has really hidden their moon. Immediately, they brought food for the sailors.

In this way, Napkal solved a difficult problem easily with the help of science.
